

Find Your Space at The Times Collaborative

Looking for a workspace that gives you more than just a desk?

We currently have private offices available at The Times Collaborative - perfect for entrepreneurs, remote workers, therapists, consultants, creatives, and small teams looking for a professional space with the flexibility of coworking.

Our private office members enjoy:

- ✦ 24/7 access
- ✦ High-speed WiFi
- ✦ Conference room credits
- ✦ Free coffee + snacks
- ✦ Mail service
- ✦ Community events and networking opportunities
- ✦ A workspace in the heart of downtown Longmont

Whether you need a dedicated place to meet with clients, focus on your work, or build your business, we have a space ready for you.

Interested in joining our community but looking for a different arrangement?

We're also launching our Host for Trade program!

This opportunity is designed for someone who loves community, organization, and helping create a welcoming environment. In exchange for a few hours of weekly support with front desk coverage, tours, and community care, participants receive coworking access while working on their own projects.

It's a great fit for someone who:

- Works remotely or runs their own business
- Wants a professional workspace
- Enjoys connecting with people
- Values being part of a community
