BACKGROUND

Purpose
The RiNo Art District is seeking proposals from highly qualified consultants to provide robust and effective community engagement, outreach, and facilitation to support the RiNo BID Renewal process.

The RiNo BID was created in 2015 and must be renewed after ten years. The BID renewal process will involve working closely with the RiNo community to: spread awareness of the BID; create a shared understanding of the BID’s role in the community; engage the community to get feedback on the impacts of the BID, and to reach a consensus on the BID’s priorities for the next ten years if it were renewed; and share a summary of community feedback and priorities with the BID Board so they may make an informed vote on whether to renew the BID.

About the RiNo Art District
Located just northeast of downtown Denver, RiNo includes a remarkable concentration of creative businesses, including architects, art galleries, designers, furniture makers, illustrators, painters, media artists, photographers, sculptors, and an array of studio spaces. RiNo is "Where Art Is Made" in Denver. As a former industrial hub, the RiNo Art District is part of the four historic neighborhoods of Five Points, Cole, Globeville, and Elyria-Swansea. During the turn of the last century, the area was home to foundries, pattern shops and industrial uses that helped drive the economic success of Denver. As industry moved out of the city's core in the late 80s and 90s, the corridor was left with several vacant warehouses and failing infrastructure. During this time, artists began to populate the area as prices were very affordable and the area was a fertile ground for arts, artists, and creatives. In 2004, local neighborhood leaders and the City and County of Denver began work on the River North Plan to consider ways to revitalize the area. In 2005, local artists Tracy Weil and Jill Hadley-Hooper joined forces and created the River North (RiNo) Art District, with the desire to form a creative community that would connect the artists that made the area their home.

Over the last decade, the Business Improvement District, General Improvement District, and the Keep RiNo Wild nonprofit 501(c)(3) were formed. The RiNo Art District nonprofit 501(c)(6) ensures cohesion across all entities and the delivery of initiatives in an equitable and community-driven manner. Together, the RiNo Art District family of organizations fund and support our community through advocacy, public realm and infrastructure improvements, artist support, community programming, business support, and events.
About the RiNo BID

A Business Improvement District (BID) is a quasi-municipal corporation and political subdivision of the state, in which commercially assessed property owners elect to make a collective contribution to ensure shared objectives are achieved and greater services are provided. The contributions create a steady and reliable funding source for enhanced services and programs, which are supplemental to those already provided by the City and County of Denver.

The RiNo BID was created in 2015 with the purpose of preserving the character, promoting economic strength of the creatives, entrepreneurs, and properties located within, and ensuring appropriate growth that promotes walkability, bikeability, sustainability, and a cohesive community fabric. The BID’s goals are to:

- Create a collective voice to accomplish the long-term goals of the art district.
- Purposefully improve and advance RiNo while keeping it affordable for creatives, entrepreneurs, and small businesses.
- Be an advocate for RiNo to influence and direct policy, develop strategic partnerships, and leverage its budget by attracting grants and additional funding, thereby providing financial sustainability.
- Retain RiNo’s unique urban and industrial character and keep the creative entrepreneurial spirit at the heart of RiNo.
- Create an accessible, desirable area where people want to visit, engage, and invest.

Additionally, the RiNo BID’s services include:

- RiNo Advocacy: The unified voice of RiNo on all matters related to preserving and advancing the district’s unique character through representation, promotion of planning and development, policy, and partnerships.

- RiNo Branding, Marketing, Activation: The BID shall facilitate the development of the RiNo brand, as well as creating and delivering an experience that encourages locals and visitors to explore RiNo through marketing, events, and programming.

- RiNo Placemaking: The BID shall work to retain the unique urban and industrial character of RiNo, integrating culture and creativity into the environment, delivering appropriate enhancements to the public realm, adding pedestrian amenities, and activating the area.

- Business Support for RiNo Creatives and Entrepreneurs: The BID shall take a leadership role in keeping RiNo affordable and promoting its local talent, creatives and entrepreneurs through advocacy, programming, and direct support, amplifying the creative and cultural offer in the district and promoting economy vitality.

About the RiNo BID Board

The RiNo BID is controlled by its Board of Directors, which consists of board members from the RiNo BID area that are a mix of artists, creatives, property owners, and business owners. Members are the representatives of the constituents of the BID and it’s the board’s role to ensure the organization adheres to its mission and strategic plan, its interests are protected, and decisions benefit its constituents. While the board delegates tasks to the BID’s employees, RiNo staff, board members are ultimately responsible for the BID’s actions. The BID Board meets monthly to discuss and vote on matters.
About the RiNo BID Renewal Process

The RiNo BID Renewal Process requires the RiNo BID Board to hold a public hearing at a board meeting in 2024 (the public hearing is anticipated to be held during the board meeting in September). After the public hearing, the board will vote whether to renew the BID. If they vote to renew it, then a bill requesting to renew the BID will be presented to Denver City Council for their vote. Although no public engagement is required for the renewal process, RiNo will engage the community to receive feedback that will be presented to the RiNo BID Board so they may make an informed vote that is representative of their constituents’ needs.
