CAPITOL RIVERFRONT NEIGHBORHOOD CELEBRATES HOLIDAYS WITH MERRY MOVIE NIGHTS AT THE BRIG – DECEMBER 7, 14 and 21

Holiday favorites for children and adults, drink specials, a coat drive and more on tap

(Washington, DC, December 3, 2018) - The Capitol Riverfront BID and The Brig (1007 8th Street SE) are serving up yuletide fun, presenting Merry Movie Nights, a holiday movie double feature, on the first three Fridays in December. The first installment is Ho Ho Happy Hour this Friday, December 7, with movies beginning at 6 pm.

The first two weeks will feature a short 30-minute holiday film for children, followed by a full-length festive film - chosen by neighborhood residents and patrons, via social media - for the young and young at heart. The Brig is family and dog friendly, and if the weather outside gets frightful, they have plenty of heaters.

Harkening back to hometown neighborhood caroling, the third Friday offers up the film Elf, followed at 8:15 pm by Christmas Carol-oke, putting participants on the big screen.

Along with merry movies, the event will offer drink specials, a coat drive, and plenty of activities to help make one's mid-winter merry and bright! The Canal Park DC ice rink is open, the Capitol Riverfront Christmas tree has been lit, and now it is time to show the Hallmark Channel how to really enjoy a holiday movie. Check out the full schedule below:
