The data received will be kept confidential and only communicated in aggregate.

Program Logistics

What type of space will my shop be?

All shops will be "as-is" empty ground-floor retail spaces in various locations Downtown. During the interview period, applicants will be able to learn more about which spaces are available for their program season and learn exact square footage, location and any existing amenities that may be in the space like a countertop or shelving.

Participants should expect to receive with space without repairs, modifications or additions from the property owner before the access or occupancy, and participants are completely responsible for any non-permanent alterations or other modifications as approved by the property owner they may like or need to do in their shop space.

When can I have access to the space to set up?

Participants will be able to access the space as soon as a signed MOU and all required paperwork (W9, proof of insurance) has been received by DTP. Most program years, there is a 10-day window from notification of acceptance to paperwork being due. It is critical that applicants remain reachable by email for updates and to meet program deadlines specified on their application.

When do I need to vacate the space?

By the end date listed on your MOU, any and all supplies, materials, alterations and waste are to be removed from the space and all copies of keys returned to Downtown Tulsa Partnership. Participants will need to time their last day of business to allow sufficient time to properly clear their shop space and return all keys to DTP by the end date listed on their MOU. It is highly recommended that businesses decide their last day of operations early in the program and communicate with their customers visibly.

Can I operate a space with other businesses?

Yes! If you don't feel ready to take on a complete shop space, you can apply with other business owners to the program. You will need to identify those businesses and their owners' names on your individual application. Every business seeking to utilize the space will need to fill out their own application, sign their own MOU, furnish their own W9 and provide their own proof of general liability insurance for their business.

What criteria will the selection committee consider when reviewing my application?

- The business' ability to occupy available shop spaces with a cohesive shop concept.
- The appeal of how the product(s) add(s) to the overall mix for good, products and services in Downtown.

- The unique identity and background of the business owner(s) and how they contribute to a diverse and inclusive Downtown business economy. How well the proposed concept works in synergy with current full-time tenants of the buildings including residents and employees.
